NOTES TO THE CONDUCTOR

Shiny Stockings is one of the greatest tunes ever written and the original Frank Foster chart for the Count Basie Band is an absolute classic. My goal in arranging this chart of Shiny Stockings was to pay tribute to Frank with a new chart inspired by the Foster original but with more accessible brass ranges. Even though my chart is different from Frank's, I believe that your band will benefit greatly by listening to the Count Basie recording of Foster's brilliant chart to get a sense of the rhythm section groove and for ensemble phrasing ideas.

This tune requires a swinging groove. Work with your rhythm section alone to help them develop a strong time feel using the Basie band as a model. Observe that this chart has a wide range of dynamics, so remind all the players to follow the markings. Rehearsing your band so they bring out all of these dynamic nuances will help communicate the character of the music and help take your band to the next level musically, I promise! For example, in measure 8 the dynamic must be mf. The dynamic contrasts in almost every big band chart are critical but in this chart, dynamics are essential. The drums can dictate the dynamics for the entire band, so begin with the drummer to exaggerate all dynamic markings. Along those same lines are attacks and releases. Attacks are obvious with the written articulation—be consistent throughout each section. The rooftop accent (▲) is played detached—think “daht.” As for releases, it may sound like something insignificant, but clean and consistent section releases will make every band sound polished and more professional.

The sax soli around measure 38 requires smooth phrasing and a cohesive concept. The section needs to work together—listen to each other. Also, don't rush the sixteenths in measure 65; crescendo together and hit the quarter note together and solid.

There is a suggested written solo for 2nd trumpet; however, this should only be used as a suggested or sample solo. Encourage your soloist to improvise. Even though there are a lot of chords in the solo section, an F major scale (trumpet pitches) will work for most of it. If you have a developing soloist you might consider having her or him try that as a way to get started.

I hope your band has as much fun with Shiny Stockings as I had arranging it.
