

Alfred's DEBUT SERIES FOR YOUNG BANDS

An Australian Sea Ballad

Arranged by Robert Sheldon

The Australian folk song "Catalpa" was first published in Three Street Ballads in 1957. The lyrics refer to the April 1876 escape of several Irish prisoners, with the assistance of some Americans, from a jail in Freemantle, Western Australia. It was suggested that the escape was made easy because there was plenty of American gold and some of it was placed in the hands of unscrupulous warders. It is rumored that the song became so popular in local pubs that it was banned, and time in jail was threatened for anyone caught singing it.

This beautiful setting allows for the utmost blend and sonority of a full band, with many opportunities for color and expressive playing. An Australian Sea Ballad will provide a wonderful contrasting moment in any concert program!
