TO THE DIRECTOR

Welcome to Mardi Gras with this fun chart written in a New Orleans style 2nd line groove! Once the rhythm section gets things happening, the band will easily fall into place and your audience might even be up and marchin' down the aisles!

This 2nd line style comes from the old marching funeral bands popular to New Orleans. The horns would march up front (the first line) and the drums, tubas and dancers would follow them (the second line). The drum style could be described as a loose march feel combined with a 3/2-clave pattern.

This chart starts off with a loud unison introduction and then goes right into the 2nd line groove. Melody should be slightly swung and watch for the staccato notes. In measure 27, horns put in a long scoop into the double whole note. It's meant to be messy. At measure 31, the trombone and then trumpet melodies should be smooth and flowing to contrast the earlier melodies in the chart.

The solo section at measure 47 is over a C blues. Have students try the written solo and the original melody to generate ideas for their own solo. The written solo is provided in Mixolydian, however a blues scale or pentatonic scale will work as well.

At measure 91, the band trades licks with the drummer. It is important that the drummer reinforces the band licks and keeps solid time during his breaks. Notice the dynamic contrasts in the horns, don't let this get heavy.

From there, the chart roars to a big ending and thunderous applause!

SoloMate recordings are available at kendormusic.com for new Kendor and Doug Beach releases. This innovative resource lets students practice their solos by downloading professionally-recorded rhythm section accompaniment tracks.
