

The background of the entire page is a close-up, artistic photograph of the valves and slides of brass instruments, likely tubas or euphoniums. The lighting is dramatic, with bright highlights and deep shadows, creating a sense of texture and depth. The lines of the valves and slides curve across the frame, adding a dynamic visual element.

FANFARE -- Light from Shadows

by James M. Stephenson

duration: 2'30 or 4'30

instrumentation:

Brass Quintet

Optional percussion includes: Triangle, Tambourine, Cymbal 2, Suspended Cymbal, Snare Drum, Bass Drum (w/ cymbal attachment), Drum Set) (optional instrumentation calls for Two brass quintets - each with 2 C trumpets, french horn, trombone and tuba.

Notes from the composer:

This fanfare is the result of many worlds colliding, resulting in music.

When I was a young trumpeter in the Naples (FL) Philharmonic - and before I was a composer - I rented a house from John and Nancy Holland Beck. It wasn't long after I lived there that the entire orchestra was stunned at the passing of Nancy, who was our principal violinist, and who had died from cancer at just 33 years old.

John subsequently met Lynn Huntzinger, who was Nancy's best friend at the Eastman School, and whose husband had also had died from cancer. He was a trombonist in the Sinatra band in Las Vegas.

Fast-forward to many years later, where now John had become the percussion department chair at the University of North Carolina School of the Arts. With the upcoming visit of trumpeter Ryan Anthony, who also is living with Multiple Myeloma, John wanted to do something in conjunction with Ryan's visit. I have known Ryan a long time as well, and so the combination of all these worlds led to this work: "Fanfare - Light from Shadows". John's one directive: "The music should be a celebration of life, not in any way sad."

I decided to make it uptempo and uplifting from the very beginning - per John's comment - and to focus on the light. The shadows were long ago, but not forgotten, and have proven to be the inspiration for the lives that have followed. Two musical elements were inspired by John and Lynn's deceased spouses: the number 7, because of the address of the house I rented before 715 107th Ave., and a lot of jazz harmonies throughout, because of the Sinatra band. The optional ending includes a long bluesy trombone solo as well.

This musical score is for the piece 'The Rose Tree' by John Williams. It is a full orchestral score, likely for a film or stage production. The score is written for a variety of instruments, including Horns (Hn.), Trombones (Tbn.), Tubas, Percussion 1 (Perc. 1), Percussion 2 (Perc. 2), and Drums (D.S.). The music is in 2/4 time and features a mix of melodic lines and rhythmic patterns. The score is marked with various dynamics, including f (forte) and p (piano). The score is divided into measures, with measure numbers 33, 38, and 39 visible. The score is written in a standard musical notation style, with notes, rests, and other musical symbols. The score is a high-quality, professional-grade musical score, likely from a reputable publisher. The score is a valuable resource for musicians and composers alike.
