NOTES TO THE CONDUCTOR

One of the things we arrangers like to do sometimes is take an old song and dress it in new clothes. My own point of view is to leave the melody more or less as the original composer wrote it, and to be judicious with any harmonic changes I make to the song. But when it comes to rhythm, there's where we can cut loose a bit. I enjoy seeing how a song works in a different time signature and/or a different groove than the original. On this chart, I tried to turn the carol we all know into a gentle jazz waltz. You should keep that in mind as you play it—keep the feel light and buoyant. When the trombones state the melody at measure 11, keep the dynamic soft, and listen closely for intonation and blend.

Although the ensemble gets strong for a brief moment at 61, the next melodic statement by the saxes and muted trumpet at 62 goes back down to the softer dynamic. It isn't until 78 that you can start building, culminating at 102 where the band should be blowing full-out.

If you are soloing on this chart, you're going to love blowing on these chord changes. Lots of juicy ii-V-I progressions going on for you to dig in to. Of course, the better you can negotiate those chords, the more fun it is, so I'd recommend taking the music home and play through these chords, slowly at first, and get them under your belt. Improvising on a song like this isn't like playing the blues where you can pound out the same scale for the entire solo. There's a little more music to dig out here, but your efforts will be rewarded, I promise, not only with a better solo, but also with a better understanding of music like this in general.

I suggest that the background parts—like saxes in 129, trombones in 137, and trumpets in 143—play nice and softly behind the soloists. Listen to the soloists, and if you can't hear the solo, you are too loud!

After the solos, there is a development section, starting at 165, but you still don't want things to get loud yet. The trumpets have the melody, but it shouldn't be too brassy. Strive for a nice, round sound, paying attention to good intonation. The saxes have a unison counter melody here, and they should go for a nice blend of the soprano, alto and tenors—a composite sound so that no single instrument sticks out. Keep this melody fairly light; this will help the blend and pitch.

Things begin to build (finally, you say!) at 181, and at 191, the entire ensemble comes together for the shout. Make sure that the added weight of the ensemble sound does not bog down the time—even though you are playing louder, keep the time moving forward.

The rhythm section has a lot to deal with on this chart. The drummer must play the jazz waltz with the correct feel, as well as setting up the horn figures with accuracy. The bass player must content with a part that alternates from a walking bass part with 3 notes to the bar, to a part in "2" with two dotted quarter notes in a bar, to a part in "1" with a single dotted half note in each bar. All of these rhythmic patterns are applicable to the jazz-waltz feel, and the bass player must move from one to another without hesitation. The piano and the guitar parts require attention to some fairly complex chords, some of which have written-out voicings and some do not. Plus, there are a lot of key changes in the chart and several places where the piano and guitar (and optional vibes) have the primary melodic focus. Don't believe me? Here's a list:

- Measure 1 piano has the melody
- 11 guitar plays the melody with the trombones
- 58–77 piano/guitar play with the (optional) flute and soprano 90 guitar plays with the saxes
- 181 piano/guitar play with the trumpets and saxes
- 212 piano/guitar/vibes have a quick soli
- 233 guitar/vibes play with the flute
- 241–244 guitar/piano/vibes have another quick soli.

I'm not kidding about this stuff—don't try to get away with hiding behind the horns and the drums and not nailing those parts! Put in a little time; learn these parts and each player will bring some great color to the band's performance.

Holiday music sometimes gets jammed into a school jazz band's schedule.

Most bands will probably have to learn this chart pretty quick, to play it at a holiday concert. Therefore, you will need to be efficient in your preparation, but I know you are up to it! And when it all comes together, I hope you and your audience enjoy playing "Hark! The Herald Angels Sing."

—Gordon Goodwin

Gordon
Goodwin

Gordon Goodwin started composing at the age of three. No masterpieces at that time, but he kept at it and wrote his first big band chart at age 13. It was good enough to convince him that he could possibly keep doing this. Flash cut 20 years later and Gordon is working in Hollywood, writing for television and film, playing sessions on keyboards and woodwinds, and working with artists like Ray Charles, Christina Aguilera, Johnny Mathis, Toni Braxton, John Williams, Natalie Cole, David Foster, Sarah Vaughan, Mel Torme, Brian McKnight and Quincy Jones, to name a few. Goodwin's cinematic scoring and orchestration craft can be heard on such films as The Sorcerer's Apprentice, Escape to Witch Mountain, Get Smart, Glory Road, National Treasure, The Incredibles, Remember the Titans, Armageddon, The Majestic, Con Air, Gone In 60 Seconds, Enemy of the State, Star Trek Nemesis and even the classic cult film Attack Of The Killer Tomatoes.

In 2000, Goodwin formed The Big Phat Band, an eighteen piece jazz ensemble, which quickly gained a reputation as one of the most exciting large jazz ensembles on the planet. To date, the BPB has released five records, Swingin' For The Fences (2000), XXL (2003), The Phat Pack (2006), Act Your Age, (2008) and That's How We Roll (2011). The albums have featured state-of-the-art guest artists like Arturo Sandoval, Eddie Daniels, Take 6, Brian McKnight, Johnny Mathis, Michael Brecker, Dianne Reeves, David Sanborn, Chick Corea, Dave Grusin, Lee Ritenour, Patti Austin, Art Tatum, Dave Koz, Gerald Albright and Marcus Miller.

Goodwin's work has garnered him three Emmy Awards and eleven Grammy® nominations, with a win for his work on the Pixar film The Incredibles. His charts are played all over the world, and along with his method books and CDs, have been a robust source of inspiration and learning for thousands of young musicians.

The musical score is for a jazz waltz arrangement of 'Hark! The Herald Angels Sing'. It is written for a large ensemble including five saxophones (Soprano, Alto, two Tenors, and Baritone), four trumpets, four trombones, guitar, piano, bass, auxiliary percussion (vibraphone), and drums. The score is in 3/4 time and features a key signature of one flat (Bb). The tempo is marked 'JAZZ WALTZ (c. 176-190)'. The score includes various musical notations such as notes, rests, and dynamic markings. A large red watermark 'Legal Use Requires Purchase' is overlaid diagonally across the score. The score is divided into measures, with measure numbers 1 through 10 indicated at the bottom.

The musical score is arranged for a full band and vocal ensemble. The vocal parts include Soprano (SOP.), Alto 1 (ALTO 1), Tenor 1 (TENOR 1), Tenor 2 (TENOR 2), and Baritone (BARI.). The instrumental parts include Trumpets 1-4 (TPT. 1-4), Trombones 1-3 (TBN. 1-3), Bass Trombone (BASS TBN.), Guitar (GTR.), Piano (PNO.), Bass, Auxiliary Percussion (AUX. PERC.), and Drums (DRUMS). The score is written in 4/4 time with a key signature of one flat (B-flat major or D minor). The vocal parts feature a melody with lyrics, while the instrumental parts provide harmonic support. The score is marked with measures 225 through 232. A large red watermark 'Preview Only' and 'Legal Use Requires Purchase' is overlaid diagonally across the page.
