About the Music

This delightful Serenade in D (K. 100/62a) was completed in 1769, when Mozart was a mere 13 years of age! It is sometimes referred to as a "cassation," which translates as an instrumental suite for outdoor performance. It is considered his first of many such serenades for a variety of instrumental combinations.

The original work is scored for oboes, with flute doubles (for outside performance), horns, trumpets and strings, and in an original performance, the players would 'enter' the performance area while actually playing the music. The entire suite consists of eight separate movements. This work is a string adaptation of the first movement of the suite.

Mozart's Serenade No. 1, even though a youthful work, provides challenges for every musician in the ensemble, and is musically appealing to players and audience alike. This would be an outstanding addition at any point in a program but is particularly well suited to be a concert "closer"!

This musical score page contains measures 48 through 56. It is arranged in three systems, each with five staves: Violin 1 (Vln. 1), Violin 2 (Vln. 2), Viola (Vla.), Violoncello (Vcl.), and Double Bass (D.B.). The key signature has two sharps (F# and C#), and the time signature is 3/4. The first system (measures 48-50) features a rhythmic pattern of eighth notes in the violins and cellos, with dynamic markings of f and p. The second system (measures 51-53) continues this pattern with various articulations like accents and slurs. The third system (measures 54-56) shows a more complex rhythmic texture with sixteenth notes in the lower strings. A large, diagonal red watermark reading 'Preview Use Only Requires Purchase' is overlaid across the entire page.
