FINLANDIA

Few composers are so closely identified with their natural environment as Sibelius is with Finland. His soaring melodies and lush orchestration vividly evoke the wilderness and grandeur of the North. The same year as his first symphony, Sibelius composed Finlandia for a fund-raising pageant in 1899, a time when Finnish nationalism was running high. Finnish audiences were so profoundly moved by this music that the czarist government forbade its performances during times of political unrest! While simple in form and structure, its dramatic elements are extremely effective.

This arrangement provides an excellent way to expose your students to a wide variety of styles and moods, all within one powerful piece. After a stark, chromatic opening, a festive section is heard based on a variety of fanfare-like motifs. The energy eventually subsides, making way for what has become one of the most famous chorales in the orchestral repertoire. After its first statement by woodwinds, the entire orchestra soon picks up this pleading, patriotic melody, and a glorious coda brings the piece to an exciting end.

Please note: Our band and orchestra music is now being collated by an automatic high-speed system. The enclosed parts are now sorted by page count, rather than score order.
