Program Notes

Composed by James F. Hanley (lyrics by Ballard MacDonald), Back Home Again in Indiana was first published in January, 1917. It is not the official song of the state of Indiana, but it might well be the most popular song to pay tribute to the state. It is still performed during pre-race ceremonies at the Indianapolis 500 while thousands of balloons are released. Over the years, it has become a jazz standard, its chord structure making it a favorite of musicians around the world.

Performance Notes

The selection may be used with or without the vocal part. Should balance be an issue with the vocalist, the conductor may eliminate those instruments doubling the melody.
